Dear Shareholders,

It is with great pleasure that I can share with you Larvotto Resources Limited's ("Larvotto" or "the Company") (LRV: ASX) 2022 Annual Report. The 2022 reporting year was our first full year following the listing of Larvotto on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) in December 2021. It has been a year that has seen substantial progress by your Company and its management team.

A key plank of Larvotto's strategy is to focus on stable, Tier 1 mining jurisdictions. To that end, the Company has advanced each of its projects in Western Australia, Queensland and New Zealand during this last 12 months. This mostly early-stage exploration has generated results, in conjunction with reviews of historical geological data conducted by past holders of each project, which has generally served to increase the prospectivity of each of the Company's assets. As expected, Larvotto's exploration programs have increased in momentum during the year and now into 2023, starting with early-stage exploration programs and moving into drilling phases at both the Eyre and Ohakuri projects. Despite the rapid general expansion of exploration spending in Australia and the COVID-19 pandemic resulting in heavy demand for technical staff and specialist exploration equipment, your management has nevertheless established significant exploration programs at each project. Similarly, the Company's exploration efforts during much of 2022 have repeatedly been hampered by unusually wet weather at all three project areas, particularly at Mt Isa and more recently the North Island of New Zealand.

At the Eyre Project east of Norseman in Western Australia, data reworking and results delivered during 2022 included:

- Identification of Nickel anomalies.
- Rare Earth Oxide (REO) anomalies, since followed up with an initial drill program completed in February 2023. Drill results from this shallow, limited drill program are awaited.
- Lithium anomalies also recently shallow drilled for which results are pending.

At the Mt Isa Project in Queensland, we have only effectively begun to "scratch the surface" of the potential targets identified across the very extensive, circa 900km² project area, such is the size and scale of the opportunity:

- Ground surveys and soil sampling programs have commenced across a number of targets.
- IP surveys have been conducted and this work defined initial drill targets that have been followed up. Drill samples have now been submitted for assay and we await results.
- Ongoing field work continues to generate new targets.

In New Zealand at the Ohakuri Project, the Company's work has targeted the potential high-grade feeder zones that would be expected with a gold epithermal system. Work has confirmed that:

- The Ohakuri mineralisation indicates that a full gold epithermal system exists.
- Reworking of historic geophysical data indicates two or three feeder zones may be present and these are being followed up by a diamond drill program currently underway.

Encouragingly, in the local regions surrounding or nearby Larvotto's Eyre and Mt Isa projects there has been a substantial increase in interest by other ASX-listed junior companies and the market in general. This suggests that we are in the right regions and exploring for the right commodities. We also note the dramatic increase in focus on "battery metals" such as copper, lithium, rare earths and lithium – all of which have been identified at Eyre and/or Mt Isa.

Your Company's board also continues to evaluate and consider a number of corporate opportunities that we have been invited to review or have been generated through management approaches to third parties. A number of these discussions are currently ongoing.

Importantly, Larvotto also successfully completed a substantial refinancing of the Company in the December quarter of 2022 and on the back of this capital raising welcomed new substantial shareholders to the share register, Waratah Capital's Electrification and Decarbonization Fund and Lithium Royalty Corp. This has given Larvotto a very firm platform from which to expand the Company's exploration efforts and programs over the course of this year. We are excited to see what 2023 brings.

The combination of the early and ongoing exploration results in conjunction with the substantial capital raising in October 2022 sees Larvotto well positioned to take the Company forward.

Larvotto Resources Limited
Chair's Letter
31 December 2022

In closing, I would like to thank Larvotto's MD Ron Heeks and his team for their tireless efforts to build and promote your Company and set it up for the future.

Yours faithfully

Operating & Financial Review

for the year ending 31 December 2022

We are pleased to provide this first full year operations report of Larvotto Resources Limited ("Larvotto" or "the Company") and its controlled entities (together referred to as the "Consolidated Entity" or "Group") since the Company listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) in December 2021.

The year began with Western Australia still in COVID lockdown, which continued until April. The restricted travel gave the Company ample opportunity to undertake detailed field exploration at the Eyre Project, located east of Norseman in the WA goldfields. Work commenced with a geochemical survey being carried out over nearly half of the 600km² project. The focus of the geochemistry was predominantly on the Jimberlana Dyke, a late stage intrusive dyke known to be mineralised with nickel, copper and PGE's and the Merivale area, which is located to the south of the Liontown Resources' (ASX: LTR) Buldania Lithium Project.

The geochemistry was hugely successful revealing:

- A significant nickel and copper anomaly adjacent to and over Mt Norcott, which lies on the Jimberlana Dyke;
- A lithium anomaly along strike to the south of Buldania in the same suite of rocks; and
- A rare earth element (REE) anomaly at Merivale South in the Albany-Fraser terrane suite of rocks.

The Merivale lithium and Merivale South REE anomalies were subsequently drilled in January 2023 and at the time of writing this report, results are still pending.

Over at our Ohakuri Epithermal Gold Project in New Zealand, compilation of historic data and site reviews were undertaken. Ohakuri is an advanced project with over 10,000m of drilling, as well as geochemistry and geophysics having been carried out over the area throughout the past 40 years. This historic work identified a very large area of lower grade gold mineralisation, and finding the potential higher grade source of this mineralisation is the key focus for Larvotto.

The Ohakuri data review lead to a reinterpretation of past exploration and this was then tested with an auger soil geochemistry program. The positive results from this program led to a detailed ground Induced Polarity (IP) geophysical survey being undertaken. The aim of this survey was to identify the location of silicified (electrically resistive) zones that may potentially be higher grade gold feeder zones that extend from depth. Several targets were successfully identified and these are currently being tested by diamond drilling that commenced in Jan 2023. Drilling is continuing with a program of circa 6,000m to be completed. Final results from sampling of the diamond core are not expected to be available until early May.

The 900km² of the Mt Isa Copper, Gold, Cobalt Project in Queensland forms the lead project for Larvotto. Throughout 2022, the Mt Isa Project suffered from a delayed start due to COVID travel restrictions and an incredibly wet "Dry" season, due to fallout from the Tongan volcano eruption in January 2022, the effects of which are still being felt. When the weather allowed, a large geochemical soil program commenced and this continued for most of field season. The geochemistry results added significantly to the already substantial number of copper anomalies that require more detailed follow up.

After numerous rig availability delays, drilling of the Gospel and Blue Star trends commenced in August 2022, after a ground Electro-Magnetic (EM) geophysical survey had identified several chargeability targets. The trend had been sporadically mined historically, was logistically available as no significant creek crossings were involved and would provide a good test of the geophysics method. Rain hampered drilling and the program was cut-short by the beginning of the wet season. Core was stuck in the field until January and is currently being processed.

We are pleased to report that 2023 has started extremely well with an aircore drilling program having commenced at Eyre and a diamond drilling program at Ohakuri. Geochemistry teams are ready to begin work when the field season opens in April at both Mt Isa and at Eyre. Additionally, metallurgical testwork will be undertaken on the REE samples from the Merivale South prospect at Eyre to determine if they are amenable to rapid leaching.

With the recent appointments of an Exploration Manager and several geologists and field assistants, Larvotto now has a full team in place to aggressively progress its projects in 2023.

Corporate

During the fourth quarter of 2022, the Group finalised two significant capital raisings. The combined proceeds of these capital raisings was $5.4 million (before capital raising costs).

The first capital raise saw the Group raise $2 million from an equity placement to sophisticated and professional investors. The placement occurred in two tranches and was concluded in December 2022. The placement was well supported by existing shareholders, in addition to new institutional investors.

The second capital raise saw an investment of $3.4 million from Canadian-based Waratah Capitals Electrification and Decarbonisation Fund and Lithium Royalty Corp. The investment occurred via direct equity investment of $2 million, the granting of a royalty over future production from the Group's Eyre project ($700,000) and the right to an offtake agreement of 20% of any future production from the Group's Eyre Project ($700,000).

Both capital raises result in the Group having a solid financial base to execute its exploration plans in 2023.

Financial position

The Consolidated Entity has reported a net loss for the year of $1,962,325 (2021: net loss of $1,512,042) and a cash outflow from operating activities of $1,802,884 (2021: $1,627,082).

At the year end, the Consolidated Entity had cash and cash equivalents of $6,464,140 (2021: $4,673,278) and a working capital surplus of $6,454,307 (2021: $4,555,488).

Business Strategies and Outlook

With the Group now in a very solid financial position, the Group will continue with exploration activities throughout 2023 at its three projects.

The objective at each of these projects is to identify and develop a mineral resource.

Statement in accordance with ASX Listing Rule 4.10.19

The Group confirms that it has used the cash and assets in a form readily convertible to cash at the time of admission in a way consistent with its business objectives.

Tenement Interests

Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves Statement (ASX LR 5.21)

It is noted that there has been insufficient exploration conducted to estimate Mineral Resources according to the JORC Code, and it is uncertain if further exploration will result in the estimation of Mineral Resources. To date, no Ore/Mineral Reserves have been estimated and reported for the Mt Isa Copper, Eyre or Ohakuri projects, from the perspective of conformance with both the JORC (2012 Edition) and VALMIN Codes, there is insufficient basis to undertake an economic assessment of the Mt Isa Copper, Eyre or Ohakuri projects at this time.

Remuneration report (audited)

The remuneration report, which has been audited, outlines the director and executive remuneration arrangements for the Consolidated Entity, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and its Regulations.

Key management personnel are those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the entity, directly or indirectly, including all Directors.

The remuneration report is set out under the following main headings:

- Principles used to determine the nature and amount of remuneration
- Details of remuneration
- Service agreements
- Share-based compensation
- Additional information
- Additional disclosures relating to key management personnel

Principles used to determine the nature and amount of remuneration

The objective of the Consolidated Entity's executive reward framework is to ensure reward for performance is competitive and appropriate for the results delivered. The framework aligns executive reward with the achievement of strategic objectives and the creation of value for shareholders, and conforms with the market best practice for delivery of reward. The Board of Directors ('the Board') ensures that executive reward satisfies the following key criteria for good reward governance practices:

- Competitiveness and reasonableness
- Acceptability to shareholders
- Alignment of executive compensation
- Transparency

The Board is responsible for determining and reviewing remuneration arrangements for its directors and executives. The performance of the Consolidated Entity depends on the quality of its directors and executives. The remuneration philosophy is to attract, motivate and retain high performance and high quality personnel.

The Board has structured an executive remuneration framework that is market competitive and complementary to the reward strategy of the Consolidated Entity.

The reward framework is designed to align executive reward to shareholders' interests. The Board have considered that it should seek to enhance shareholders' interests by:

- Focusing on sustained growth in shareholder wealth, consisting of dividends and growth in Number of share price, and delivering constant or increasing return on assets as well as focusing the executive on key non-financial drivers of value; and
- attracting and retaining high calibre executives.

Additionally, the reward framework should seek to enhance executives' interests by:

- rewarding capability and experience;
- reflecting competitive reward for contribution to growth in shareholder wealth; and
- providing a clear structure for earning rewards.

In accordance with best practice corporate governance, the structure of non-executive Director and executive Director remuneration is separate.

Non-executive Directors remuneration

Fees and payments to non-executive directors reflect the demands which are made on, and the responsibilities of, the directors. Non-executive directors fees and payments are reviewed annually by the Board. The chair's fees are determined independently to the fees of other non-executive directors based on comparative roles in the external market. The chair is not present at any discussions relating to determination of his/her own remuneration. Non-executive directors do not receive share options or other incentives.

As per clause 14.7 of the Company's Constitution, the total aggregate fixed sum per annum to be paid to Directors (excluding salaries of executive Directors) shall initially be no more than $250,000 and may be varied by ordinary resolution of shareholders in general meeting.

Executive remuneration

The Consolidated Entity aims to reward executives with a level and mix of remuneration based on their position and responsibility, which are both fixed.

The executive remuneration and reward framework has three components:

- base pay and non-monetary benefits;
- share-based payments; and
- other remuneration such as superannuation and long service leave.

The combination of these comprises the executive's total remuneration.

Fixed remuneration, consisting of base salary, superannuation and non-monetary benefits, are reviewed annually by the Board, based on individual and business unit performance, the overall performance of the Consolidated Entity and comparable market remunerations.

Executives can receive their fixed remuneration in the form of cash or other fringe benefits (for example motor vehicle benefits) where it does not create any additional costs to the Consolidated Entity and adds additional value to the executive.

All Executives are eligible to receive a base salary (which is based on factors such as experience and comparable industry information) or consulting fee. The Board reviews the Executive Director's remuneration package, and the Executive Director's review the senior Executives' remuneration packages (where applicable) annually by reference to the Consolidated Entity's performance, executive performance and comparable information within the industry.

The performance of Executives will be measured against criteria agreed annually with each executive and is based predominantly on the overall success of the Consolidated Entity in achieving its broader corporate goals. Bonuses and incentives will be linked to predetermined performance criteria. The Board may, however, exercise its discretion in relation to approving incentives, bonuses, and options, and can require changes to the Executive's remuneration. This policy is designed to attract the highest calibre of Executives and reward them for performance that results in long-term growth in shareholder wealth.

All remuneration paid to Directors and Executives is valued at the cost to the Consolidated Entity and expensed. Options are valued using the Black-Scholes or Binomial methodology. Performance rights are valued using the Hoadley Barrier¹ trinomial model methodology.

Long-term incentives ('LTI') includes long service leave and share-based payments. Shares and or options are awarded to executives on the discretion of the Board based on long-term incentive measures.

Consolidated Entity performance and link to remuneration

Remuneration packages do not include performance-based components. An individual member of staff's performance will be assessed by reference to their contribution to the Consolidated Entity's overall achievements. The intention of this program is to facilitate goal congruence between Executives with that of the business and shareholders. Generally, the executive's remuneration will be tied to the Consolidated Entity's successful achievement of certain key milestones as they relate to its operating activities.

Details of remuneration

Amounts of remuneration

- none of the services undermine the general principles relating to auditor independence as set out in APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants issued by the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board, including reviewing or auditing the auditor's own work, acting in a management or decision-making capacity for the Consolidated Entity, acting as advocate for the Consolidated Entity or jointly sharing economic risks and rewards.

Note 1. General information

The financial statements cover Larvotto Resources Limited as a consolidated entity consisting of Larvotto Resources Limited (the 'Company') and the entities it controlled (collectively "Consolidated Entity") at the end of, or during, the year.

The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is Larvotto Resources Limited's functional and presentation currency.

Larvotto Resources Limited is a listed public company limited by shares, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Its registered office and principal place of business is:

Unit 6, 105 Broadway
Nedlands,
WA 6009

A description of the nature of the Consolidated Entity's operations and its principal activities are included in the Directors' report, which is not part of the financial statements.

The financial statements were authorised for issue, in accordance with a resolution of Directors, on 31 March 2023. The Directors have the power to amend and reissue the financial statements.

Note 2. Significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out either in the respective notes or below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The Consolidated Entity has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ("AASB") and the Corporations Act 2001, as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities. These financial statements also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB").

Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for, where applicable, the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, investment properties, certain classes of property, plant and equipment and derivative financial instruments.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Consolidated Entity's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in note 3.

Parent entity information

In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, these financial statements present the results of the Consolidated Entity only. Supplementary information about the parent entity is disclosed in note 21.

Principal of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the assets and liabilities of all subsidiaries of Larvotto Resources Limited ('Company' or 'parent entity') as at 31 December 2022 and the results of all subsidiaries for the period then ended. Larvotto Resources Limited and its subsidiaries together are referred to in these financial statements as the 'Consolidated Entity'.

Subsidiaries are all those entities over which the Consolidated Entity has control. The Consolidated Entity controls an entity when the Consolidated Entity is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Consolidated Entity. They are de-consolidated from the date that control ceases.

Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between entities in the Consolidated Entity are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of the impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Consolidated Entity.

The acquisition of subsidiaries is accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. A change in ownership interest, without the loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction, where the difference between the consideration transferred and the book value of the share of the non-controlling interest acquired is recognised directly in equity attributable to the parent.

Where the Consolidated Entity loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets including goodwill, liabilities and non-controlling interest in the subsidiary together with any cumulative translation differences recognised in equity. The Consolidated Entity recognises the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any investment retained together with any gain or loss in profit or loss.

Current and non-current classification

Assets and liabilities are presented in the statement of financial position based on current and non-current classification. An asset is classified as current when: it is either expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in the Consolidated Entity's normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting period; or the asset is cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when: it is either expected to be settled in the Consolidated Entity's normal operating cycle; it is held primarily for the purpose of trading; it is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period; or there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Income tax

The income tax expense or benefit for the period is the tax payable on that period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction, adjusted by the changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences, unused tax losses and the adjustment recognised for prior periods, where applicable.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for temporary differences at the tax rates expected to be applied when the assets are recovered or liabilities are settled, based on those tax rates that are enacted or substantively enacted, except for:

- When the deferred income tax asset or liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and that, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting nor taxable profits; or
- When the taxable temporary difference is associated with interests in subsidiaries, associates or joint ventures, and the timing of the reversal can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

The carrying amount of recognised and unrecognised deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date. Deferred tax assets recognised are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that future taxable profits will be available for the carrying amount to be recovered. Previously unrecognised deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that there are future taxable profits available to recover the asset.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only where there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and deferred tax assets against deferred tax liabilities; and they relate to the same taxable authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities which intend to settle simultaneously.

Investments and other financial assets

Investments and other financial assets are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs are included as part of the initial measurement, except for financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. Such assets are subsequently measured at either amortised cost or fair value depending on their classification. Classification is determined based on both the business model within which such assets are held and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset unless an accounting mismatch is being avoided.

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows have expired or have been transferred and the Consolidated Entity has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership. When there is no reasonable expectation of recovering part or all of a financial asset, its carrying value is written off.

Financial assets at amortised cost

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost only if both of the following conditions are met: (i) it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and (ii) the contractual terms of the financial asset represent contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest.

Impairment of financial assets

The Consolidated Entity recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets which are either measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income. The measurement of the loss allowance depends upon the Consolidated Entity's assessment at the end of each reporting period as to whether the financial instrument's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, based on reasonable and supportable information that is available, without undue cost or effort to obtain.

Where there has not been a significant increase in exposure to credit risk since initial recognition, a 12-month expected credit loss allowance is estimated. This represents a portion of the asset's lifetime expected credit losses that is attributable to a default event that is possible within the next 12 months. Where a financial asset has become credit impaired or where it is determined that credit risk has increased significantly, the loss allowance is based on the asset's lifetime expected credit losses. The amount of expected credit loss recognised is measured on the basis of the probability weighted present value of anticipated cash shortfalls over the life of the instrument discounted at the original effective interest rate.

For financial assets mandatorily measured at fair value through other comprehensive income, the loss allowance is recognised in other comprehensive income with a corresponding expense through profit or loss. In all other cases, the loss allowance reduces the asset's carrying value with a corresponding expense through profit or loss.

Impairment of non-financial assets

Non-financial assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount.

Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use. The value-in-use is the present value of the estimated future cash flows relating to the asset using a pre-tax discount rate specific to the asset or cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Assets that do not have independent cash flows are grouped together to form a cash-generating unit.

Goods and Services Tax ('GST') and other similar taxes

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the tax authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of the acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the tax authority is included in other receivables or other payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the tax authority, are presented as operating cash flows.

Commitments and contingencies are disclosed net of the amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the tax authority.

Financial position

The consolidated financial report has been prepared on the going concern basis, which contemplates continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and settlements of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

The consolidated entity has reported a net loss for the year of $1,962,325 (2021: net loss of $1,512,042) and a cash outflow from operating activities of $1,802,884 (2021: $1,627,082).

At the year end, the consolidated entity had cash and cash equivalents of $6,464,140 (2021: $4,673,278) and a working capital surplus of $6,454,307 (2021: $4,555,488). The directors manage discretionary expenditure in line with the consolidated entity's cashflows and are confident that there are sufficient funds to meet the consolidated entity's working capital and funding requirements for a minimum of 12 months from the date of this report.

Note 3. Critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements. Management continually evaluates its judgements and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenue and expenses. Management bases its judgements, estimates and assumptions on historical experience and on other various factors, including expectations of future events, management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting judgements and estimates will seldom equal the related actual results. The judgements, estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities (refer to the respective notes) within the next financial year are discussed below.

Impairment of exploration and evaluation expenditure

The expectation of recovery of the costs capitalised is based on the assumption that the Consolidated Entity will be able to successfully develop and commercially exploit, or alternatively, sale, of the exploration and evaluation expenditure.

On a regular basis, management consider whether there are indicators as to whether the asset carrying values exceed their recoverable amounts. This consideration includes assessment of the following:

- expiration of the period for which the Consolidated Entity has the right to explore in the specific area of interest with no plans for renewal;
- substantive expenditure on further exploration for and evaluation in the specific area is neither budgeted nor planned;
- exploration for and evaluation activities have not led to the discovery of commercially viable quantities of mineral resources and the Consolidated Entity has decided to discontinue such activities in the specific area; and
- sufficient data exist to indicate that, although a development in the specific are is likely to proceed, the carrying amount of the exploration and evaluation expenditure is unlikely to be recovered in full from successful development or by sale.

To the extent that capitalised costs are determined not to be recoverable in the future, they will be written off in the period in which this determination is made.

Note 4. Operating Segment

Identification of reportable operating segments

The Consolidated Entity operates in one segment, being an explorer of mineral resources, which is also the basis on which the board reviews the Consolidated Entity's financial information.

AASB 8 requires operating segments to be identified on the basis of internal reports about the components of the consolidated entity that are regularly reviewed by the chief operating decision maker in order to allocate resources to the segment and to assess its performance. In the current year the board reviews the consolidated entity as one operating segment being mineral exploration within Australia and New Zealand.

All assets and liabilities and operations are based in Australia and New Zealand.

Accounting policy for operating segments

Operating segments are presented using the 'management approach', where the information presented is on the same basis as the internal reports provided to the Chief Operating Decision Makers ('CODM'). The CODM is responsible for the allocation of resources to operating segments and assessing their performance.

Ordinary Number of shares

Ordinary Number of shares entitle the holder to participate in dividends and the proceeds on the winding up of the Company in proportion to the number of and amounts paid on the Number of shares held. The fully paid ordinary Number of shares have no par value and the Company does not have a limited amount of authorised capital.

Capital risk management

The Consolidated Entity's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can maintain an optimum capital structure to achieve the objectives.

Capital is regarded as total equity, as recognised in the statement of financial position.

The Consolidated Entity would look to raise capital when an opportunity to acquire a Company or exploration project became available that the Board viewed as adding value. The Consolidated Entity continually monitors the exploration business environment for these opportunities.

Accounting policy for issued capital

Ordinary Number of shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new Number of shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

There were no dividends paid or declared during the current financial year ended 31 December 2022 (31 December 2021: nil).

Note 14. Financial Risk Management

Financial risk management objectives

The Controlled Entity's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including currency risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Consolidated Entity's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Consolidated Entity.

Risk management is carried out by the full Board of Directors as the Company believes that it is crucial for all board members to be involved in this process. Senior management, as required, has responsibility for identifying, assessing, treating and monitoring risks and reporting to the board on risk management.

Interest rate risk

The Controlled Entity is exposed to movements in market interest rates on cash and cash equivalents.

The entire balance of cash and cash equivalents for the Controlled Entity of $6,464,140 (2021: $4,673,278) is subject to interest rate risk.

Cash at bank	100	64,641	64,641	100	(64,641)	(64,641)

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Consolidated Entity. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date to recognised financial assets is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the consolidated statement of financial position and notes to the financial statements. The Consolidated Entity does not hold any collateral.

Credit risk management: cash deposits

The credit risk on liquid funds is limited because the counterparty is a bank with a high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk management requires the Consolidated Entity to maintain sufficient liquid assets (mainly cash and cash equivalents) to be able to pay debts as and when they become due and payable.

The Consolidated Entity manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate cash reserves by continuously monitoring actual and forecast cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

Note 14. Financial Risk Management (continued)

Remaining contractual maturities

The following tables detail the Consolidated Entity's remaining contractual maturity for its financial instrument liabilities. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the financial liabilities are required to be paid. The tables include both interest and principal cash flows disclosed as remaining contractual maturities and therefore these totals may differ from their carrying amount in the consolidated statement of financial position.

	Weighted average interest rate	1 year or less	Between 1 and 2 years	Between 2 and 5 years	Over 5 years	Remaining contractual maturities

Total non-derivatives		234,912	-	-	-	234,912

The cash flows in the maturity analysis above are not expected to occur significantly earlier than contractually disclosed above.

Fair value of financial instruments

Unless otherwise stated, the carrying amounts of financial instruments reflect their fair value. The carrying amounts of trade receivables and trade payables are assumed to approximate their fair values due to their short-term nature. Where appropriate, the fair value of financial liabilities is estimated by discounting the remaining contractual maturities at the current market interest rate that is available for similar financial instruments.

Report on the Audit of the Financial Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of Larvotto Resources Limited ("the Company") and its subsidiaries ("the Group") which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022, the consolidated statement of profit or Loss and other comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the directors' declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of the Group is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- (i) giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 31 December 2022 and of its financial performance for the year then ended; and
- (ii) complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001, which has been given to the directors of the Company, would be in the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period.
